

Proud to Serve the Los Altos Community

County of Santa Clara Green Business Program

Now in its 14th year, the County of Santa Clara Green Business Program continues to attract environmentally-minded businesses who want to keep their community sustainable. The free, voluntary Program has certified more than 550 businesses in Santa Clara County to date.

Local businesses create jobs and provide goods and services to the community; they are the backbone of our economy.

Green businesses take additional steps to protect the planet for future generations. Each Program applicant undergoes a review of its energy efficiency, recycling, water conservation, and pollution prevention practices during the certification process. County staff conducts an onsite visit and assures compliance with all local and regional environmental regulations.

Green business practices often translate into more than saved money and resources. Green businesses receive recognition they deserve for helping to protect the environment.

The County of Santa Clara Green Business Program partners with local cities, the Santa Clara Valley Water District, Pacific Gas & Electric, and the Bay Area Air Quality Management District. With the passage of AB 913 in 2011, the Green Business Program is now a founding member of the California Green Business Program that is coordinated by the Department of Toxic Substance Control.

Los Altos is currently home to All Horizons Travel, Silicon Valley Mediation Group and more than twenty other Green Businesses. To find a Green Business near you or to learn how your company can participate in the Green Business Program, please visit www.greenbusinessca.org or call 408-282-3180.
